Concerning Soil Tillage

After the ground is plowed, it should be disced and harrowed until all lumps are finely pulverized. This is because the delicate plant roots cannot penetrate hard lumps and are, therefore, deprived of much plant food. Tillage increases the availability of plant food elements by changing the arrangements of soil particles and bringing together those that have not before been in contact. It also changes the relation of the soil with air, water, salts and acids in the soil, making available plant food that would otherwise remain dormant.

Yesterday, Holy Thursday, at St. Patrick's church at 8 a. m., beautiful and impressive services were held in honor of the institution of the Blessed Sacrament, the first of the Eastertide celebrations.

Fifty little girls, gowned in white, with wreaths of smilax and flowers, carrying large bouquets, and 25 altar boys, followed by Father Joseph O'Dwyer, bearing the Blessed Sacrament, formed a procession which wended its way through the sanctuary where, amid a bower of beautiful flowers and lights, the Blessed Sacrament was left exposed upon the altar until 8 o'clock in the evening.

The faithful came in throngs throughout the day and evening to pay tribute to their Lord and King.

OUR INTRODUCTION.

The DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER and its Job Printing Plant yesterday entered under a new and entire different management from what it has been heretofore. By the assistance and confidence of those good friends who so kindly came to our aid we were enabled to consummate a deal that has been our wish and aim for several years past. As to what success we shall have remains with the public, for to them we must give an accounting of our merits or shortcomings.

Pardon us if we retrospect at this time, but the facts are so vivid before us that we can not help but look back over what has been. A little over nine years ago we entered your midst an entire stranger unknown to any one, with but few cents in our pocket. We came to answer a summons of the Hon. Thomas A. Davis, who was in need of mechanical help in getting out a large catalogue for one of our local concerns. At that time it never dawned upon us that we would remain in Maysville any length of time, and eventually be at the head of this institution so ably created and conducted by our good friend "Tom" Davis. To him we owe in a large measure our success and renewed start in life. It was by his wise counsel and good advice that we were encouraged to push forward with all the energies at our command and win for ourselves a place in the business world, inspiring confidence and esteem as we went along. We shall never forget Mr. Davis or his kindness toward us. We can never hope to fill his shoes in any capacity so ably as he, but we shall do our best.

As to Mr. A. F. Curran, whom we succeed in this enterprise, we owe to him our sincere thanks and gratitude, as he made it possible for us to be his successor by coming to us with such inducing terms we could not resist his offers. Thanks to him and may good fortune attend any of his undertakings.

As to the present working force of this office, there will be no immediate changes, but we shall all strive to go forward, doing the greatest good to the greatest number.

The policies of this paper shall be strictly Republican in politics, adhering to the doctrines as enunciated by that great statesman and martyred President, Abraham Lincoln. In city and county affairs we shall reserve the right to stand for that which will best conserve the interests of Maysville and Mason county, supporting the best to be had of the offerings.

The Ledger shall ever stand ready to promote the interests of our community, advancing every enterprise worthy of consideration, and work for everything that will have a tendency to uplift and upbuild its people, both morally and spiritually, as well as financially.

To our competitors in business we hope to have their confidence and business respect, giving them that which is theirs and taking that which is given into our hands. To them we shall be fair and square in our dealings.

To our readers and patrons, we shall endeavor to produce a live, up-to-date, clean-cut home newspaper, that will be worthy of their support, respect and confidence. Our columns shall be open to any contributed article that has any merit. From time to time we hope to make improvements all along the line as they are needed and can be made with funds at our disposal.

In conclusion, we beg to thank the people of Maysville for their favors and friendships in all of our undertakings, not overlooking the fact that we still retain an interest in our popular De Nizie Book Store. We shall push, plug and work for a bigger, better and greater Maysville. With all hands at work, lending their aid toward this end, our hopes should be realized at no distant day.

Our sleeves are now rolled up and ready for business. Are you with us? Come on and let us work together. Here's to success.

Asking your earnest co-operation and support, we are with sincere feelings of gratitude toward all and malice toward none.

C. E. DIETRICH.

WE THANK THE PRESS BOYS.

In stepping down today as editor of The Public Ledger, we desire to express our thanks to our kind newspaper brethren with whom we have been so long and so pleasantly associated. May good luck and prosperity be with them all to the end of the chapter.

MAKING THE EDITOR FEEL RICH.

When an editor gets a copy of the new style book and a list of attractive investment securities in the same mail, he feels so important that he has half a mind to lay aside his pipe and go over to the grocery and buy a 10-cent cigar.—Columbus Journal.

WELL PUT, MR. PRESIDENT.

Full confidence in the great main body of the people who serve as "stabilizers" when the more excitable ones try to "rock the boat" in these perilous days was voiced by President Wilson in an address before the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

THE BLACKBIRDS.

Pretty nearly every town in the state seems to have a surplus of blackbirds and various ways and means of getting rid of the birds have been suggested. Not long ago some one came forward with a plausible plan of tying bells in the trees where the birds roost. The Lagrange New Era strongly intimates that the scheme will not work. That paper says:

"The writer of this knew that plan tried once, which was successful for a short time, but those particular birds had as much curiosity as a cat, and they came back in droves to investigate. Finally they turned the bells into a kind of an orchestral accompaniment to their chatter, hopping around on the limbs to make the bells ring when the wind died down. The result was a greater nuisance than ever."

By the way, will some birdological person explain why it is that the blackbirds have selected the shade trees in the towns and cities as a roosting place? One might naturally think they would prefer to roost in the country, away from the electric lights and from various other things that annoy. It can hardly be possible that there are more bird enemies in the country than in the city, but the birds seem to forage all day in the rural districts and to seek the towns when night comes.—Frankfort State Journal.

COMPLIMENTARY WORDS FOR JUDGE CLARK.

The Cynthia Log Cabin (Republican) pays the following well-deserved compliment to the Falmouth jurist who is making the race for Judge of the Court of Appeals:

"Judge Clark is what the politicians call a 'good mixer,' and he makes a friend of every man he meets. Possessing a pleasing personality combined with modesty, ideal character and splendid ability, Judge Clark is recognized as one of the most popular, as well as one of the ablest men Pendleton county has produced. These same attractive characteristics which have made him so popular at home will attract to him strong and numerous supporters throughout the district. We have known him since the knee-breeches age when we played marbles together; we played with him on the old home-town baseball team and always knew him to be fair and square, and possessing those sterling qualities of character and mind which have developed through the passing of years, endowing with the judicial temperament which judges impartially always, and a fine ability which has mastered the law and equips him admirably for the judicial emprise. His nomination would undoubtedly add strength to the Democratic ticket this fall."

AN EXPENSIVE COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL.

The Times-Democrat calls attention to the fact that the Board of Education of Fleming county has spent $10,000 erecting the county high school at Hillsboro and is now employing a teacher at a cost of $65 per month when there are only three pupils there in the school. If this be true, the Board of Education as a business proposition and a matter of duty to the taxpayers should either take steps to largely increase the attendance or else abolish the school, if possible. It is gross extravagance and unfair to do otherwise, if the foregoing statements are true.—Fleming Gazette.

WONDER IF OWSLEY WILL GET WHAT'S COMING TO HIM?

Over at Terre Haute, Ind., Owsley Stanley is having a hot time of it in defending the worst lot of election thieves and grafters ever put on trial in the United States Court. And in spite of Owsley they are going to get what is coming to them.—Flemingsburg Times-Democrat.

Three thousand six hundred witnesses have been examined in a lawsuit in Atlanta. The cost of bringing them into court was $1,700. The lawsuit for which this army of witnesses was mobilized involved the ownership of $82,957. And yet there are members of the bench and bar who get mad when a mere citizen criticizes American methods of dispensing justice.

At the University of El Azhar, the great Moslem university at Cairo, the 11,000 students still study the Ptolemaic theory of the universe. This theory puts the earth at the center of the solar system, around which the sun and stars revolve—a theory which science disproved hundreds of years ago.

Rumor is to the effect that President Wilson may not be a candidate for re-nomination for the Presidency and that Champ Clark, W. J. Bryan and Oscar Underwood are laying their lines to succeed him.

After knocking some of the kinks out of that Galician city with the unpronounceable name, the Russians are ready to tackle some of the Kaiser's barbed wire entanglements.

Their Main Interests.

"The lives of wives are devoted principally to four things."

"And they are?"

"Hubs, tubs; cubs and clubs."

A Firm Stand.

"What is your attitude toward poetry?" he began abruptly.

"We are always glad to print breakfast food, bean or canned soup poetry, at our usual advertising rates," replied the editor.

SOMERSET CITY SCHOOLS

Gives Law and Evidence Against Use of Cigarettes By Boys Under 18 Years of Age—Read, Think, Act.

A Fight For Civilization.

I do not believe there is an agency more destructive of soul, mind and body or more subversive of good morals than the cigarette. The fight against the cigarette is a fight for civilization. This is my judgment as an educator.—Dr. Frank W. Gunsulius, Ex-President Armour Institute, Chicago.

Honest Boys Made Cowards.

I have seen bright boys turned into dunces, straightforward, honest boys into miserable cowards by cigarette smoking. I am speaking the truth, nearly every physician and teacher knows.—A. Clinton, M. D., San Francisco.

Totally Untrustworthy.

My experience shows that a boy who has been overcome by this evil is totally untrustworthy. He seems to lose the power of discriminating between right and wrong, and soon becomes both a moral and a physical wreck.—C. W. French, Principal Hyde Park High School, Chicago.

Testimony Overwhelming.

The proof that the cigarette habit of boys of school age is physically and mentally destructive is now overwhelming that no intelligent person would undertake to defend it or to present arguments against the work of the Anti Cigarette League. The testimony of teachers and physicians who have carefully noted its effects upon boys of tender years is unanimous in condemnation of the practice. It is one of those insidious habits which spread rapidly from one boy to another, and which calls for heroic preventive measure.—Chicago Times Herald.

Newsboys' Alley.

"Any one may pass through Newsboys' Alley, in the rear of the Times Herald office, and see all the horrible examples of cigarette smoking he may ever wish to look upon. Scarcely a boy in the alley is free from the itching desire to get a cigarette between his lips. These little fellows do not have the money with which to buy new, clean cigarettes all of the time, so they resort to the process known among them as 'shooting snipes.' This consists in picking up the remnants of smoked cigarettes from the streets."—Chicago Times Herald.

Railroads Issue Orders.

The following railroad companies have placed the ban on cigarette smokers: Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific R. R., Union Pacific R. R., Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R. R., Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R., Central Railroad of Georgia, New Haven & Hartford R. R., Lehigh Valley R. R., Chicago Business Houses Bar Cigarette Smokers.

Among many business concerns in Chicago who will not employ cigarette smokers are Marshall Field & Co., Swift & Co., Packers; Montgomery Ward & Co., Hecht & Miligan, Carson, Pirie Scott & Co., Morgan & Wright Co., Western Union Telegraph Co., messenger service.

A Voice From John Wananaker.

George Sexton, who has charge of 200 boys at Wananaker, says: "I will not employ a cigarette smoker if I know it."

Are You Doing What You Can For the Redemption of Kentucky Boys?

I speak as a teacher to teachers. Go into the streets at night and notice the boys loitering about the corners with cigars or cigarettes in their mouths; go into your school rooms the number of boys whose clothing is saturated with the perfume of smoke, or whose pockets are filled with tobacco, which they are only too willing to distribute among their mates. —Hon. Henry Sabin, Iowa's State Superintendent of Schools, in an address before the State Teachers' Association.

The Unbroken Procession.

Great is the danger. While presiding on the criminal court this year, an unbroken procession of boys, from Monday till Saturday, week after week, month after month, is passing before me. Almost every boy is found to be addicted to the cigarette habit. It seems to demoralize him, to take away his moral fiber and make him an easy prey to other vices.—Edmund W. Burke, Judge of Criminal Court of this county.

The cigarette smoker, unlike cigar smokers, can not do without it, even while waiting a moment for a car in the street, or even in the cloak room at social functions.

Germany, France and Japan forbid the use of tobacco by minors, the latter under 21 years.

HOW "FAN" ORIGINATED.

The word "fan" was coined in 1883. While managing the St. Louis Brown a particularly talkative person came around daily and would rant on players, their ability and baseball in general. One day when he went out Charles Coniskey was asked what he would call a fellow like that. Coniskey suggested that he was a baseball fanatic. A newspaper man present said that was too long for frequent reference and cut the word to "fan." He printed it and the other newspapers took it up, referring to any one too interested in baseball as a fan. Hence the word.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., announced that the Rockefeller Foundation should extend aid to the extent of $100,000 to men in distress in the Colorado mining district.

KISSES REDUCED

From Thirty To Three Feet Gives Idea of Kick Against the Film Censors—Blood Spilling. Cut Out.

Columbus, O.—That demoralizing effect which scientists say emanates from movies in the brains of certain humans who persistently watch love, passion, pathos and comedy thrown on the screen is at the minimum in Ohio.

Of 34 reels, latest to be inspected by the Ohio Board of Censors, seven reels were entirely suppressed and 20 suffered cuts that will make the small boy who watches them less bloodthirsty and the lovesick girl less reckless. This is what the movie characters did in these censored films but could not do in Ohio.

Kiss for 20 feet (kisses are always cut to three feet in Ohio), drink poison, drink liquor, stage at 30-foot fight, (fights are flashes only, if at all), kidnap some one, murder some one, smoke opium, take off their pajamas and otherwise disrobe, gamble, put poison tablets in a glass of water, forcibly hug a girl, abduct some one and tie them to a load of dynamite, drink from a bottle, sit on a man's lap, and several other little scenes that the censors thought would have effect on the morals of the movie patron.

Moving picture manufacturers are conducting a campaign against the Ohio censors on the ground that the constant "cutting and pasting" of films is an expense the manufacturers failed to figure on. It is charged the Ohio censors are too strict, anyway, and ought to be eliminated.

NEW C. & O. WORK TO START APRIL 15.

Columbus, O.—Work on the new right-of-way by the C. & O. railroad between Portsmouth and Columbus, planned as a link connecting the Ohio river cities with the lake region and West Virginia coal fields, will be started not later than April 15, according to R. J. Vannest and H. H. Culbertson, railroad contractors of Pittsburg. The contractors were en route to Portsmouth, where first bids are to be awarded Saturday. The opening contract will be for 26 miles of road, the cost of which is estimated at $2,500,000, exclusive of cost of Ohio river bridge. The road will run through Sciotoville, Waverly, Circleville and Chillicothe. This is said to be one of the largest railroad building projects in two years.

GERMAN SHIP

Prinz Eitel Friedrich Visited By Col. Morgan When In Newport News Last Week.

(Hillsboro (O.) Dispatch.)
One of our townsmen has had the unique and very interesting experience of a visit on board the German commerce destroyer, Prinz Eitel Friedrich, now at Newport News and an interview with Captain Thierichens.

En route home from a pleasure trip through the south, Colonel and Mrs. Dan Morgan stopped at a few days' visit last week with relatives at Newport News. Colonel Morgan, through acquaintances and friends among navy officers, gained an introduction to the German captain, made famous by his exploits on the high seas in the destruction of 15 merchantmen since the Prinz Eitel's escape from the harbor of Kiu-chau, China, five months ago.

The captain was very courteous and invited Colonel Morgan and a party of friends aboard the Prinz Eitel. He permitted all kinds of questions and while some were diplomatically and adroitly avoided, he told of many of their exciting experiences. When the subject of the probable action of his vessel as soon as repairs are finished, was approached, he shrugged his shoulders and shook his head. Then when some one remarked that a number of English and French warships were lying in wait for him just beyond the three-mile limit, he naively suggested that as they didn't get him coming in, they perhaps wouldn't go out.

The Prinz Eitel has been scraped and apparently made ready for sea, though no one knows just how far the repair work has progressed. Colonel Morgan told Captain Thierichens that among Hillsboro's German-American citizens, one Captain Frank Emmerling, was in Berlin when war was declared and that he has 17 nephews in the German army. Thierichens was very much delighted at such a family record and at once took from his pocket a card and wrote in German several sentences, addressed to "Mr. Frank Emmerling." No one but Captain Emmerling has been able to decipher the message and he says it merely means "greetings," but not a few are of the opinion that perhaps some deep military or naval secret may have been passed on to our good citizen, Mr. Emmerling. He values the card very highly, as does Colonel Morgan a postal card given him by Captain Thierichens, bearing his picture and autograph.

Col. Dan Morgan is a Maysville man and son of the late Dr. Henry Morgan.

REASONS FOR OPPOSING BIBLE READING IN SCHOOLS.

Archbishop Moeller of the Cincinnati archdiocese, has given out the following statement:

"I deplore the fact that so many people of our country are growing up without any religion. I hold religion of more importance even than secular knowledge. I believe that religion besides secular branches should be taught in the schools; but I do not think the present project of reading the Bible or selections from it will accomplish its end.

"If selections only of the Bible are to be read, what selections will be chosen? Who will choose them? What we Catholics consider very vital in a passage would be thought unimportant by those who differ from us in faith; hence the latter would be in favor of omitting what Catholics would insist be inserted.

"If the whole Bible is to be read, several objections present themselves. Those of the Jewish faith will object to the reading of the New Testament.

"We Catholics will object to any Bible except the Douay Edition; we can not accept the King James Version.

"No matter what restrictions are placed on the teachers it will be impossible to control some of the teachers from putting their own construction on passages from the Scriptures. In that way these teachers will prejudice the minds of the little ones against the faith of their parents."

GOOD FRIDAY OBSERVED IN GOTHAM.

The prolonged dry weather is said to be working great damage to grass and wheat in Hardin county.

TRIBUTE TO "UNCLE GEORGE"

Old-Time Darkey Was Some Banjo Picker, and He Was Better At Pursuing Trot Line Than a Plow.

Adjutant General J. Tandy Ellis of this city, head of the state's military affairs, who, when "Grim visaged war smooths its wrinkled front," occasionally dallies with the muses and indulges in writing short stories in that incomparable style of his which has given wide celebrity to the several volumes which he has published, has recently "taken his pen in hand" and written the following unique tribute to the memory of George Mosby, an old-time "darkey" whom he knew years ago when the General resided near Carrollton, Ky., and who died recently in Indiana. This tribute was published in a recent issue of the Carrollton News, and has attracted so much comment by reason of its pathos and humor that the Leader has been asked to reproduce it for the benefit of its readers who did not see the original publication.

General Ellis' Tribute.

As I came from Frankfort to Lexington recently, I looked over the Carrollton Democrat, and there was one item of news in particular, which attracted my attention—the death of old George Mosby over in Indiana, and as the car sped along over the snow-clad fields, the memories came drifting back of golden dawn and gorgeous valley sunsets, of music, of laughter and of song and the happy days of association with this old-time, old-fashioned colored friend.

The first time I saw Mosby was down by the Four-Mile bridge. He was looking for a home. He took off his hat, and making a profound bow, said: "Boss, I heah yo' got a house to rent on yo' farm."

"What are your qualifications?" I asked.

"A black wimmun, name uv Lu," said he.

"I'm sorry, but I don't think I can use you."

"Yes, sah, an' I picks de banjo, too."

"Move in!" said I. "Move in!"

I had farmed the year before with Platt Orr on the front of the place, and Len Swango on the back part. Both of them were fiddlers. About all we talked that year was mustards greens and blackberries, but it was a delightful year of musical exploitation, and now I foresaw the revival of the pleasures of agricultural life.

Mosby moved in and ere long I discovered that I had found a gem of purest ray serene. Both of us were touched by the same intermingling musical strain. It was hard to tell which one of us loved whisky the most. There were many traits in common between us. He was about as fond of work as I was, and there soon sprang up between us a mutual attachment, kept in refreshing satisfaction, as long as the banjos were in tune and we couldn't see the bottom of the jug.

Our contract was easily arranged. Mosby agreed to cultivate enough tobacco for chewing and smoking purposes, and enough corn to take to mill. He also agreed to divide the fruit crop, which consisted mostly of persimmons.

And time went on. The May days came when the birds were mating and singing their tenderest songs of love.

The flowers burst into gorgeous and heavenly bloom. The waters of the stream purled and murmured as they lapped against the shore. The summer came with clustering foliage on the hills and golden waving grain in the valley, but Mosby's plow stood rusting in the furrow. We had found the peace that passeth understanding. There was more pleasure in the pursuit of a trot line than in pushing a plow. There was more nourishment in a cat fish, broiled over a wood fire on the river shore, than in a pot of cornfield leeks. The tobacco crop had gone to seed, and the jimpson weeds were waving above the corn. But what matter! The days were free from trouble, and the nights were glad with song.

I have listened to banjo music a thousand different times, but never to such music as Mosby made, and to-night it comes again—the drooping, chanting melody—the perfect time and rhythm, and across the years I can hear his plaintive old voice again: "Gim me de book; gim me de line, Fish don't bite till summer time."

Or: "Ole Jodge Thompson in de stan' Great big law book in his han', Faw ye well, my Luler gal, Over de road I'm bound ter go."

There was never but one breach between us, and that was after I moved to Owensboro. Mosby promised to name his first child for me. One day I came back to the farm and saw a little black cherub, endearingly, in the sand.

"Is that my namesake, Lu?"

"No, sah, we named him Willie, fo' short."

Mosby was over on the farm of Mr. Harris at work. I went over and found

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Maysville Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment; the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Maysville woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. Dora Mefford, Maysville, Ky., says: "I had been feeling poorly for some time, before I knew that my kidneys were at fault. I was nervous and dizzy and my back and head ached. I rested poorly and mornings I was all tired out. I read in a local paper how a neighbor had been cured of kidney trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. I used them and before long I was a great deal better. I was able to sleep well and they improved my health."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mefford had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

COPY OF THE "STONE OF UNCTION."

Washington, April 2.—Today's ceremonies to the observance of Good Friday at the Church of the Holy Sepulchre and its attached Franciscan monastery at Brookland, a suburb of this city, included the use of the latest gift to that sanctuary, a facsimile of the "Stone of Unction," which is one of the objects of veneration in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem. This copy was recently brought here from Palestine and is said to be the only one extant of the stone on which, according to tradition, the body of Christ was laid for anointing before being consigned to the tomb.

ROUTE OF "DIXIE HIGHWAY"

Through Kentucky To Be Determined At Conference.

The conference of Governors and road men, to be held in the interest of the "Dixie Way," a proposed road from the north to the south, will convene at Chattanooga, Tenn., today for a two days' session and will attract many hundreds of people from all over the south.

Governor James B. McCreary, Commissioner of Public Roads R. C. Terrell, R. J. McHyde, president of the Kentucky Good Roads Association, and many other notable from Kentucky will attend. The Louisville Automobile Club has been the prime mover in the work for the new road in this state, and has named delegates from many counties in Kentucky to the meeting. An effort is now being made to get Speaker Champ Clark, who is at Pass Christian, Miss., to stop at Chattanooga and address the meeting.

At this conference it is expected that the fight between adherents of the "upper" and "lower" pikes in Kentucky, each of whom want their road designated as the route of the "Dixie Way" through Kentucky will be settled, and one of the two given the right to style itself the "Dixie Way."

Hoosier Man Tips Former Senator and Vice President To Head Republican Ticket.

(Wednesday's Lexington Herald.)

Colonel W. W. Huffman of Anderson, Ind., associated with Samuel Judson Roberts in 1888 when he founded the Lexington Leader, arrived in Lexington last night from Louisville, Col. Huffman was business manager of the Leader, while Mr. Roberts was its editor. He has been away from Lexington for 21 years.

"Charles W. Fairbanks, the former Vice President," said Colonel Huffman, who was introduced as "the Percy Percy of Indiana," "will be the next Republican nominee for President and Indiana will stand solidly behind him. A love feast recently between the Progressives and Republicans was held recently when an amalgamation was practically assured."

Colonel Huffman said that a while before he left Indiana, E. C. Toner, editor of the Anderson Herald, assured him that an announcement of this sort would be made soon.

"BOSS, $3 OF THAT IS MINE."

(Vanceburg Sun.)

The Chief of Police of Portsmouth called up Jailer Henry Sullivan Sunday morning and asked him to search train No. 5 for a negro by the name of George Anderson, who had robbed the cash register on the Steamer Courier on her up trip Saturday night and left the boat at Portsmouth and took the C. & O. train for Cincinnati. Jailer Sullivan and Marshal Hendrickson boarded the train here and Anderson, who claims Paris as his home, was the first negro they came to. They took him off of the train and on searching him found $66. As soon as they found the money and before they had accused him of stealing he said, "Boss $3 of that is mine."

When asked who the rest of it belonged to he seemed to realize that he had talked too much and closed up like an oyster. The crew of the Courier called at the jail Monday and identified him.

ROBERT LINCOLN TO TELL OF SLEEPING CAR PORTERS.

Chicago.—Robert Lincoln, son of Abraham, emancipator of the American negro, and himself chairman of the board of directors of the Pullman Company, one of the largest employers of negroes in the United States, is to appear at the hearing here next Monday of the Federal Commission on Industrial Relations.

Mr. Lincoln is to tell of the conditions under which car porters work and discuss their salaries, the lowliness of which has been attributed the custom of tipping. The likelihood of the tips having a debasing effect on the negroes also will be taken up.

KING WASHES POOR MEN'S FEET.

Madrid, April 2.—In none of the Catholic countries of Europe is Good Friday observed with more solemn and elaborate ceremonies than in Spain. Today the whole royal family attended the special services held in the chapel royal of the palace. The principal feature, as usual, was the edifying ceremony of the Washing of Feet. The "lavatorio" was conducted by King Alfonso, who carefully washed the feet of 12 aged mendicants who had been picked up in the streets of Madrid. After the ceremony the 12 were treated to a sumptuous feast.

All of the murders occurred under the cover of darkness. None of them was ever solved.

YOU CAN'T BEAT FLEMING.

The Owingsville Outlook has this item about one of our notable citizens: "Mrs. Sarah Ratliff, of near Galtax, Fleming county, is 85 years old and lives alone. She does all her house work, including washing. She keeps a cow which she milks and feeds. She also keeps a horse which she goes into the pasture and handles and saddles and rides wherever she may want to go in the neighborhood. She is the mother of 12 children, all living."

In this city we have Sam. Jones, now in his eighty-seventh year, who works every day on the streets, driving his cart and doing a full day's work in all kinds of weather.—Times Democrat.

"DEE-LIGHTFUL" SOCIAL EVENT

Sh! Don't ever mention it, but at a recent meeting of an Ashland church society, some one "spiked" the punch served without the knowledge of the hostess or her guests, and they do say it was necessary to replenish the bowl early, and that when they departed, some of the ladies insisted that the meeting was one of the most delightful the society had ever held.—Ashland Independent.

In reply to publications that he was being investigated by the Internal Revenue Bureau upon charges of soliciting campaign funds from storekeeper gangsters, Congressman Langley issued a general denial.

$10,000 FIRE AT MARROWBONE, KENTUCKY.

Burkesville, Ky., April 1.—The Payton Roller Mill and Axe Handle Factory at Marrowbone burned. The loss is $10,000.

MURDEROUS WORK OF COVING. TON GUNMEN.

A design for the murderers of Private Patrician Martin O'Herron, 50, of 273 West Fifth street, Covington, who was shot to death while patrolling his beat at Scott street and Wallace avenue, Covington, early Thursday, was stretched over the northern Kentucky cities and Cincinnati by the police. For familiarity the murder hardly has a parallel in the annals of the police.

Although O'Herron lay dying of a bullet wound in his heart, the murderers came back and kicked him in all his groans. Terror reigned in the neighborhood of the crime, one of the fashionable centers of Covington. Scores, roused by the shots, saw O'Herron fall and witnessed the consummate boldness of the slayers.
